Greenhill News

This week, we continued our theme of learning, focusing on the importance of memory. The more attention we give to something, the better we are at remembering it. While it's not always easy and we may forget things at times, the good news is that we can always practise to improve. We made a promise to ourselves to keep working on our memory, ensuring that we remember what matters most: to be kind, to keep learning, and to always do our best!
