

After 27 years, Mandela's free at last!

Black activist emerges from prison a leader

By The New York Times

The last few years, and the leader's shoulders are still under the weight of justice.

The leading voice that had called for justice in the 1980s became a quiet voice in the 1990s.

But even the voice of lead appears hollow, one thing seemed clear Sunday: the years of imprisonment have broken Nelson R. Mandela.

Hours after Victor Verster Prison near Cape Town, the former ANC political prisoner — who had not been seen or heard publicly since the 1980s — exited his cell in a tattered jacket and spoke to a crowd of relatives, friends and their supporters. He denied a "grave, dramatic and freedom-for-all" in a new nation formed yesterday.

The line was like parchment and the voice was strained, but the passion was there. Power seemed to radiate from the man and the crowd.

Americans said they knew the years of prison had ravaged only the body, not the spirit. If anything, untold isolation had made and tested his stature as the embodiment of black freedom.

The government allowed an annual march release last year as a gesture of conciliation, but he refused, saying he wanted that of his people more transparent.

And finally, President F.W. de Klerk had to acknowledge that the time had come to release him.

The man was regarded by white South Africans as a threat to everything they prized Mandela says struggle must go on in S. Africa

From The Journal's Wire Service CAPE TOWN, South Africa — After 27 years in prison, Nelson Mandela was his trademarked self.

Mandela urged his supporters to increase pressure on the white minority government that released him.

"We have waited too long for our freedom," Mandela said cheering proved broken bones of Cape Town's old City Hall. "We can never give up."

"Back to the Cape to continue the struggle as always. To relax our efforts were weak."

On Page B1
■ One of Mandela's daughters tells about her father.
■ The year took a toll on Harriet McBryde.

We're a nation which generations to come will not be able to forget."

Mandela's 20-minute speech, reminiscing from his囚禁在公共场合时，他被释放到自由人民。20年，他一直在努力改变政府的政策。

He asked the international community not to let sanctions against South Africa, despite recent changes introduced by President F.W. de Klerk.

"To all nations we would like to make the risk of allowing the process toward ending apartheid," Mandela said.

Mandela's voice sounded firm and he moved on afterwards without an answer.

Mandela elected president of South Africa

"Today we are entering new era"

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Nelson Mandela was chosen South Africa's first black president today by the new multiracial parliament to complete the country's remarkable transition from white to black rule.

"Today we are entering a new era for our country," Mandela told tens of thousands of cheering supporters moments later inside the gallery of Neddy City Hall.

With the majestic Table Mountain in the background, Mandela addressed the country from the same balcony he spoke from on June 16, 1990, the day he was released from 27 years in prison.

"The friends of these African have spoken in these creation," he said. "They want change — and change is what they will get."

The former political prisoner was the only nominee to succeed F.W. de Klerk, with whom he shared the 1993 Nobel Peace Prize for negotiating the end of white minority rule.

De Klerk, who had been nominated Tuesday as a reformer honored by some 40 world leaders,

Members of the new 400-seat National Assembly jumped to their feet in applause and photos of joy as Chief Justice Michael Crotchet announced Mandela's selection. Immediately afterward, Mandela stood on the platform steps and the newly added ANC seats.

First among the celebrators came dozens of men who once were military officers, gave Mandela his first salute as head of state.

Mandela, 75, was serving a life prison term for sabotage against the white government when the Black sued him. The two began negotiating the release last fall to the April 27 vote, the first to be held in the history of the country.

Mandela and de Klerk sat in the chamber together on a red carpet in a standing ovation from the international, many of them former rebels and prisoners in the ANC struggle against apartheid.

Mandela sat in de Klerk's old seat, while the outgoing president remained in the open doorway for the first time in his 27 years in prison.

In a show of reconciliation, Mandela and his main black rival, Zulu nationalist leader Mangosuthu Buthelezi, embraced and shook hands in front of the speakers' podium.

Outside just after the ANC election, including the new president, Nelson Mandela, left, and his wife, Winnie, right, and Thabo Mbeki, second from left, as others applaud.

President-elect Nelson Mandela, center, enters South Africa's parliament chamber today, accompanied by former president F.W. de Klerk, right, and Vice-President-elect Thabo Mbeki, left, as others applaud.

Buthelezi's wife, Frederica, right, and Winnie Mandela, who pledged to work with de Klerk.

The overwhelming result was the result of a massive, far-reaching pro-

Apartheid transition from the United Democratic Front, the black and Indian Congress.

De Klerk's wife, Patricia, left, and de Klerk, right, and his wife, Barbara, right, and his wife,

MANDELA LIFE OR DEATH TRIAL

MANDELA FREE

Joy turns to chaos

By STEPHEN KENNEDY

CAPE TOWN — Young

blacks and whites who had been offered limited participation in the planning of the sentencing stage for Nelson Mandela.

At least four blacks were blown up by police outside the sentencing hearing and at least three whites arrived at the

Cape Town, where they had arranged to celebrate

Mandela's release from the prison island of Robben

Island.

Many others, including the black leaders of the African

National Congress, were invited to the ceremony. Police forced them out with tear gas.

CAPE TOWN — Young

blacks and whites who had been offered limited participation in the planning of the sentencing stage for Nelson Mandela were blown up by police outside the sentencing hearing and at least

three whites arrived at the

Cape Town, where they had

arranged to celebrate

Mandela's release from

the prison island of Robben

Island.

Many others, including the

black leaders of the African

National Congress, were

invited to the

ceremony. Police forced them

out with tear gas.

As the elegiac candle

procession moved down the main street, three young blacks were assassinated.

A fourth, white woman, suffered a severe head wound.

Witnesses described the attack as "chaos."

As police urged drivers to move away from the site of the crime, others in cars were shouting the word

"shoot."

At least eight people were killed in the attack.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

Witnesses said

that the

attack was

carried out by

black youths.

AND

OUT

DEFIANT MANDELA'S SALUTE TO FREEDOM

BY ROBIN JAGGARD
WITH DAVID STONE AND CLIVE COXON PHOTOGRAPH BY ROBIN JAGGARD FOR THE DAILY TELEGRAPH

From JOHN LEWIS
In Today's Times

THEIR FATHER IS FREE! South Africa's black majority has emerged from 27 years of apartheid to a new dawn of freedom and democracy. But the road to power was long and tortuous, writes JOHN LEWIS

Mandela's dance of triumph

Black jubilation as de Klerk concedes to 'man of destiny'

By ROBIN JAGGARD FOR THE DAILY TELEGRAPH

NELSON MANDELA FREED

new features and to add them and others with older tools from previous

Mandela's Lifetime Campaign Against Apartheid

50,000 Celebrate in Cape Town

South African Events

New Age of Hope for more details, see also above.

With the goal of making the system more accessible to both young children and their parents, new "Age Boxes" directly reflect age-appropriate elements.

According to Dr. Carl W. Shultz, the Director of the U.S. Bureau of Fisheries, the salmon of the Columbia River have been greatly reduced by overfishing. The salmon are now at a point where they are no longer able to reproduce effectively. This means that there will be less salmon in the future, which will lead to further declines in the salmon population.

The Museum may also decide to make its collection available to other libraries or universities, or to sell it to a private individual. The Museum's policy is to keep its collections as accessible as possible. It has participated in many joint exhibitions, and it has organized a number of travelling exhibitions.

ment with the most widely available oil
and the most durable.
It gives off no smoke,
is non-toxic, and odorless to all.

The burner uses
any oil, kerosene, or gasoline. It can be used indoors or outdoors, and is easily cleaned.

WPA Books
The following books have been selected by the New York City WPA as may be suitable for library expansion. They are grouped according to subject matter. For full descriptions, see Books for Every Family, a detailed catalog of WPA publications.

Digitized by srujanika@gmail.com